

Social Behavior: Interacting With Others

GROUP MEMBERS:

Introduction To Social Behavior:

- What Is Social ?

In short behavior is what you react in different situation in your daily life is called behavior.

- For example:

- A Person has an angry personality (This is called behavior)
- And that person becomes jolly with friends (this is called Social behavior)

Introduction To Social Behavior:

- What Social Interaction ?

It could be gestures, eye contact or anything.

- Followings are the ways to interact with people:
- social network
- connection with groups ,families, friends etc

An Introvert And Extrovert Person's Social Behavior:

- An introvert person is that person who does not interact a lot with people.
- An extrovert person is that person who does interact a lot with people.
- But their social behaviors can be deferent !

For Example: A person is an introvert but his family is friendly to him and they live happily and enjoy each and every part of their life when this person interacts with any person he surely a best behavior of interacting them.

An Introvert And Extrovert Person's Social Behavior:

- And if an extrovert person facing family problems so he would be not good a behaving with people.

Social relation

- A series of social relationships that link an individual to others.
- Group by group:

Groups share ideas and view about something which allows a person to interact and communicate with other peoples.

Group behavior:

- Group behavior refers to the situations where people interact in large or small groups. Groups of a large number of people in a given area may act simultaneously to achieve a goal that differs from what individuals would do acting alone.
- For example:
joining a protest or march, participating in a fight or acting patriotically.

Why do people join groups:

- * Companionship
- * Survival and security
- * Affiliation and status
- * Power and control
- * Achievement

Importance of group behavior in our society:

- As we know is going on in city. We really need cooperation with each other. Everyday people are killed without any reason. We can see that how our people protest in city on any issue. They come on roads in the shape of group but they don't know how to protest. They destroy their own people's shops, cars etc.

Social norms effects on Social Behavior:

- Social norms are created and set by our family background. Which we have to follow and we cannot deny the fact that we are not following any norm.

Social norms effects on Social Behavior:

- For Example:
- If a boy from a European country and a boy from eastern country have different social behavior because the people at European side is kind of rational and the people at eastern side is sentimental. So indirectly, this thing has a big impact on behavior which allows a person to behave when he is in the process of socialization.
